Fifth Edition of Danzer's Annual Hardwood Notebook Released

This year's limited edition is bound in Linea Walnut with Danzer Freeform aluminum inlays

Dornbirn, Austria, December 2016 – Hardwood specialist Danzer issued the 5th edition of its annual hardwood notebook. The 2,500 pieces limited edition is used for marketing purposes. Every year, the company chooses another wood species as book cover. This year's notebook features a unique binding with stylish aluminum inlays. The notebook contains about 220 ruled pages and 12 photo pages presenting a selection of noteworthy Danzer projects, products and Danzer services and facilities worldwide.

The notebook's Walnut veneer binding is embellished with Danzer Freeform aluminum inlays. Danzer Freeform allows almost any organically shaped inlay and can be produced in an industrial process: Ornaments, messages or logos can be added to almost all Danzer wood surfaces quickly and add functionality or promote a brand.

Recent Danzer projects featured in the notebook include a wide range of examples like a 3D-wall panel at the famous Watergate Hotel in Washington, DC, a light-weight shoe tree for an Italian luxury brand and a high-volume side chair for an American office seating company.

Since their first edition in 2012, the annual Danzer notebook has developed into a popular collectible. Previous notebook editions included book covers made from rustic Hickory, Danzer Linea Birch and Beech Driftwood.
